New Members Named to Atlanta Medical Center Board of Directors

ATLANTA, Ga. (February 2, 2010) – Atlanta Medical Center is pleased to announce the appointments of Kwanza Hall, Brian Leary and Catheren M. Woolard to its governing board.

Mr. Hall currently serves on the Atlanta City Council, representing District 2, an economically and culturally diverse constituency. He is also the Director of Business Development for MACTEC Engineering and Consulting Inc., and serves on the boards of several community organizations, such as the Butler Street YMCA, Operation HOPE and the Historic District Development Corporation.

Mr. Leary is president and CEO of Atlanta Beltline Inc., a planned network of public parks, multi-use trails and transit in downtown Atlanta. Previously, he was vice president of Atlantic Station in Midtown, a national model of sustainable development and smart growth. Other commitments include serving on the boards of Leadership Atlanta and Visitors of Emory University and as chairman for the City of Atlanta Public Art Advisory Committee, among others.

Ms. Woolard currently serves as executive vice president, Global Advocacy and External Relations, for CARE. She served on the Atlanta City Council for several years and, in 2002, became the first woman to be elected Council President. A political and social activist, her job history includes working for the Human Rights Campaign in Washington, D.C. and serving in the U.S. Peace Corps in the Federated States of Micronesia.

“We welcome these new additions to our board and look forward to their input and guidance,” said William T. Moore, president and Chief Executive Officer. “Their combined wealth of leadership skills, knowledge and experience, as well as a shared dedication and commitment to the city of Atlanta, will benefit not only our facility but also the community at large.”
